Shelby Man Killed In Crossing Crash

2 Others Hurt In Mishaps

Injuries Fatal To U. N. Fisher

A Shelby man was killed and two other persons were injured, one seriously, in a series of traffic accidents yesterday in the Mansfield area.

Urban Nicholas Fisher, 56, of 12 Steele avenue, Shelby, was fatally hurt at 2:15 p. m. yesterday when the car he was driving was struck by a Big Four passenger train at Noaker grade crossing between Shelby and Shiloh.

He was returning to Shelby from a visit to his farm in Cass township. He had been an employe of the Ohio Power company for 24 years and was load dispatcher at Vernon Junction.

Mr. Fisher's death was the 20th Richland county fatality of the year. There were 27 county fatalities at this time last year.

The grade crossing victim was taken to Shelby Memorial hospital by an unidentified motorist but was pronounced dead on arrival. The motorist told attaches the victim was breathing when picked up at the accident scene.

Dr. D. C. Lavender, Richland county coroner returned a verdict of accidental death. He said Mr. Fisher suffered a crushed face and chest, fractured skull and multiple head cuts.

Mr. Fisher was a member of the Most Pure Heart of Mary church in Shelby, the Knights of Columbus and the Holy Name society. He is survived by his widow, Stella; two daughters, Agnes and Rosemary, who are students at Vila Maria school in Pennsylvania; five brothers, William of Akron; Charles, Ray, Frank and Steve, all of Dayton; and a sister, Mrs. Stella Skillen of Dayton.

RITES SET FRIDAY

The body was taken to the Barkdull funeral home in Shelby, then returned to the family residence. Rites will be held at 10 a. m. Friday in the church with Rev. M. A. McFadden, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the Catholic cemetery at Shelby.

Mrs. Ida Lash, 84, of 342 Sandusky street, Ashland, is in critical condition at Samaritan hospital. She was injured when the car in which she was riding skidded and crashed into a guard rail two miles north of Nankin at 5:40 p. m. yesterday. She was riding with her daughter, Miss Mary Lash, of the same address, who is a teacher at Osborn grade schools in Ashland.

Mrs. Lash suffered a possible skull fracture, fractured right shoulder, right femur and left leg.

Top Chinese In Huddle

NANKING — (AP) — From all corners of China today came Nationalist military leaders to talk war or peace with Chiang Kai-Shek.

The aging president, urged by many to quit, called the conference. It probably will start tomorrow. On its decision may rest the future of Nationalist China, beset on the north by conquering communists.

Even as the warlords, generals and leaders arrived in Nanking, a government source revealed that a Red underground organization was hard at work only two miles from the capital.

North of the Yangtze it appeared almost all over for Chiang's men. A few pockets held out, notably in Peiping and Tientsin, and Gen. Tu Li-Ming's Red-surrounded force 50 miles south of Suchow. None seemed to have any chance of getting out.

Bus Route Change Effective Jan. 9

The new bus route changes announced by Mansfield Rapid Transit, Inc., manager C. M. Ross will go into effect on Sunday Jan. 9.

Major changes in the bus routes include a shift of the transfer point from its present location at Fourth and Main street to North Main street at North Park street, and a re-routing of the Park avenue west run to include the Maple Lake area.

Lose Hope For 30 On Airliner

MIAMI — (INS) — Hope dwindled today for the lives of 30 persons aboard a missing chartered DC-3 airliner after hours of fruitless search for the plane.

The airliner, carrying 27 passengers and a crew of three, was long overdue on a flight from Puerto Rico to Miami. Officials feared the plane crashed into the sea.

Authorities said the search was resumed at dawn.

Most of the passengers were believed to be Puerto Ricans returning to New York from a Christmas holiday. Two babies were reported to be among the passengers on the twin-engined transport, operated by the Airborne Transport company of New York.

CAA officials said the plane's crew filed an instrument flight plan, designating departure and arrival times, before leaving San Juan.

NIGHT HALTS SEARCH

Authorities reported that 43 search craft were sent back to their bases after darkness halted operations last night.

The hunt for the missing airliner spread over a 900-mile area from Miami to San Juan and involved Army, Navy and Coast Guard planes from bases in Florida and the Caribbean.

Coast Guard officers said the DC-3 was fully equipped with survival equipment, including life rafts, individual life preservers and a "Gibson Girl" emergency radio.

Radiomen said no calls had been received on 500 kilocycles the international distress frequency to which all "Gibson Girl" trahsmitters are set.

Big 'Kitty' To Be Split

WASHINGTON— (AP) — Dividends ranging from a few cents to several hundred dollars will be paid out in 1949 to veterans who took out National Service Life insurance.

The veterans administration said in announcing this that 16,000,000 veterans may share in the payments.

Unofficial estimates of the size of the surplus fund, from which the dividends will be paid, range from $1,500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000.

Officials said that veterans who took out the minimum $10,000 policy and held it a short time will receive only a small dividend. But the GI's who got into the program early and for the maximum amount of $1,000 probably will receive up to several hundred dollars.

Officials said they doubted if payments will start before next August.

OEA Names Miss Boyd

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Miss Margaret Boyd, Steubenville mathematics teacher, was elected president of the Ohio Education association last night.

Miss Boyd, who was unopposed, thus became the second woman elected to head the 101-year-old OEA. She was advanced to the presidency from vice president earlier this year by the the executive committee after the resignation of the elected president.

George C. Beery of Columbus, Franklin county superintendent of schools, was elected vice-president and Mrs. Sylvia Todd of Lakewood was elected teacher representative on the executive committee. Both were unopposed.

Light Quake Hits

MARRYSVILLE, CALIF. —(ap) — An earthquake of moderate intensity was felt here at 4:57 a. m., PST. Police reported some downtown windows broken, and some breakage was reported in residential areas.

POLICE MAKE A HAUL

CINCINNATI — (INS) — Cincinnati police arrested 36 men for vagrancy at one crack today. They were sleeping in the basement of the Pearl Harbor club.

NORTH LAKE WINTER SCENE—It looks like something by Currier and Ives but it has sounded like happy bedlam out at North lake these winter vacation days. Hundreds of youngsters have taken advantage of the smooth ice on the little lake to try out their Christmas skates or cut flourishes with their old ones. Return of cold weather tonight is expected to bring back the crowds of enthusiastic skaters, some of whom even braved last night's rain to enjoy their favorite sport. The lake is lighted from 6:30 to 10 p. m., when the ice is suitable for skating. At noon today, however, Parks Superintendent Frank Burton announced that the ice at both North lake and Liberty parks is unsafe and asked skaters to stay off.

Snow Heads For Ohio

State to Feel Effects of Storm

A severe winter storm whipped across the midwest today, but weathermen said it probably would bring only snow flurries and strong winds to Ohio.

Rain was due to change to snow tonight as a cold wave moves in behind the wind and snowstorm. Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and moderately cold with snow flurries likely, the weatherman said.

Yesterday's high in Mansfield came at 2:30 p. m. when the mercury rose to 43. Today's high was 45 degrees at noon. The low was 37 at 12:30 a. m. today.

The storm, carried by winds up to 50 miles, left a trail of heavy snow as it swept across Illinois and Wisconsin. Born in the North Pacific, the storm battered the California coast line earlier this week and pushed inland over the Rocky mountains, gaining intensity as it moved the western plains.

A forecaster reported temperatures were falling 10 degrees an hour in the wake of the storm. He warned that because of the high winds, "The air will be filled with drifting snow in many areas even though the actual snowfall doesn't amount to much."

The storm left huge drifts behind it across Colorado, Kansas and Iowa. A 12-inch snow fall was reported by Utah weathermen. Salt Lake City reported 15 inches of snow on the ground—deepest in the city's history.

6 Persons Killed In Plane Crash

DETROIT, — (INS) — Heavy icing was believed today to have frozen the controls of a Michigan Air Guard bomber and caused it to crash with the loss of all aboard at Romulus air base, near Detroit.

Col. Donald W. Armstrong said the twin-engined B-26 carried four Michigan men and two civilian passengers when it struck the landing strip and exploded last night.

Halt Activities Friday

Workers Get Second Double Holiday

Most Mansfielders will enjoy a double holiday again this week end when many industries and public offices close all day Saturday for the New Year's holiday. Plants and offices were closed last week end for Christmas.

The only plant which will remain open as usual is the Empire Steel corporation where heated furnaces used in making steel make it necessary to work regular shifts both Friday and Saturday.

Factory employes of both Dominion Electric corporation and the Tappan Stove company have been on vacation all week while the plants were closed for inventory.

Dominion Electric employes will return to work Monday and those at Tappan will return Tuesday. Office employes of both companies who have been working this week will have Saturday off.

Workers in most departments of the Barnes Manufacturing company will get an extra half-day off when the plant closes at noon Friday.

The Ideal Electric company will not close early Friday, but workers on the night shift will not have to report Friday night.

CLOSE AT NOON

All city offices will close at noon Friday, giving their employes an extra-long week end.

The court house, however, will remain open until its usual closing hour of 4 p. m. Friday, but will be closed all day Saturday.

The Mansfield Public library will close at 5 p. m. Friday instead of its usual closing hour of 9 p. m., and remain closed Saturday.

Postal employes also will have the day off. There will be no mail deliveries Saturday.

Negev Front 'All Quiet'

BULLETIN

PARS—(UP)—The United Nations Security council, after hearing a British report that Jewish troops had invaded Egypt, today ordered a cease fire in Palestine, a troop withdrawal to old truce lines in the Negev and immediate armistice negotiations.

★

TEL AVIV, Israel —(AP)— Reports from Israeli and United Nations sources indicated today that the second battle of the Negev had come to a tentative halt.

A U. N. spokesman at Haifa said reports from observers in the southern Palestine desert said "all quiet."

An Israeli military spokesman said earlier the battle was "slackening."

Earthquake Rocks Reno

Phone, Power Lines Dropped

RENO, Nev.—(AP)—Power and telephone lines were knocked down and minor highway slides touched off by renewed earth tremblors which shook Reno heavily early today.

The shocks, apparently centering here, extended through the Sierra into northern California as far west as San Francisco and as far south as Fresno in the San Joaquin valley.

Three quakes, the first reported at about 4:55 a. m., were so severe as to knock the seismograph of the University of Nevada completely awry. They were the latest in a series of shocks beginning Monday night, when Reno was shaken seven times within a period of four and a half hours.

The Bell Telephone company reported its lines down near the California state line about 15 miles west of here. As emergency crews were rushed out to determine the extent of the break, company officials said heavy electrical charges in the circuits indicated high-voltage power lines had fallen across them.

Nine Japanese Get Gallows

YOKOHAMA, — (INS) — Nine former Japanese officers, including three generals, were sentenced today to death on the gallows for beheading 33 captured American B-29 airmen in the closing days of the war.

Sixteen other erstwhile Japanese officers were sentenced to serve terms ranging from five years to life at hard labor.

All were conviced in Yokohama of beheading the American flyers after using some of the prisoners as live bayonet dummies in reprisal for the Hiroshima and Nagasaki atomic bombings.

Rescue Cost Estimated At $500,000

Beaudry's Son Glad 'Papa's a Hot Pilot'

(Compiled From Wire Services)

WESTOVER FIELD, Mass.—The proudest person at this U. S. air base today is Emil Beaudry jr., 5½-year-old son of Lt. Col. Emil Beaudry. Lt. Col. Beaudry flew the C-47 rescue plane which snatched 12 airmen from the Greenland ice cap yesterday.

Somewhat downcast because this is the second consecutive Christmas his father had been away from home, Emil's spirits received a big lift when news was phoned from Westover Field to his mother telling of his father's part in the successful rescue.

Turning to his mother he said:

"Gee, Mom, you look happy. I'm sure glad Papa is a hot pilot."

An ironic touch to the rescue is that Lt. Col. Beaudry is permanently assigned to the base traffic office, a strictly non-flying job. His duties are primarily concerned with handling passengers and cargo on the ground.

Beaudry, considered one of the air force's top experts on multi-engine ski-equipped planes, was assigned from his non-flying job to the rescue operation in Greenland Dec. 15.

He had been in Labrador and Greenland awaiting suitable weather conditions for his rescue attempt.

Meanwhile in Washington, the government estimated it may be out close to half a million dollars for the whole series of events that led up to yesterday's dramatic rescue.

In addition to the original crash of the $100,000 C-47 which put the first seven men on the icy plateau, three futile rescue attempts cost the air force one B-17 and two gliders. In addition, the service had at least 14 aircraft engaged in rescue operations, including one flown across the top of the continent from Alaska to Greenland.

The navy ordered the 14,500-ton carrier, Saipan, from Norfolk, Va., to Greenland to try to rescue the men with helicopters. The Saipan had traveled 1,360 miles through stormy North Atlantic waters before the mission was halted by the rescue of the men.

Cost of rescue is seldom tabulated by the armed services, spokesmen said. They explained that since the rescues must be attempted regardless of expense, no one keeps close tabs on the dollars and cents expended.

Convincing Movie Leads To Surrender

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Those movie detectives are really convincing. Ask Charles H. Moore, 36, formerly of Tuscumbia, Ala.

Moore called the sheriff's office last night and told them he was wanted in Alabama on a charge of embezzling $2,800 in state funds.

"I saw a picture the other night ('The Accused')" Moore told Det. Sgt. F. P. O'Connell. "There was a detective in it that just never gave up. I've been thinking about him ever since. I decided that you'd get me now or later, and it might just as well be now."

Closed Shop Return In 1949 Looms

Congress Likely To Lift Ban

WASHINGTON —(AP)— People on both sides of the labor-management fence are predicting that the 81st Congress will make the closed shop legal again.

If this happens, great numbers of workers will be brought under contracts requiring them to be union members in order to get or hold their jobs.

Labor leaders are taking it for granted that the closed shop ban in the Taft-Hartley Act is doomed. Officials of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States says this "seems likely."

"It is safe to say that the absolute prohibition of the closed shop is likely to be changed."

But Taft quickly added that it's possible to predict exactly what Congress will enact on this general subject. He hinted he will seek a "closed union" ban as a substitute for the closed shop ban.

"If we are going to permit the closed shop, we can hardly have the closed union," he said.

By "closed union," he means a union that bars people from membership on grounds other than non-payment of reasonable dues or initiation fees.

Taft predicted flatly that Congress will eliminate the Taft-Hartley provision which prohibits a union from writing a "union shop" contract unless a majority of the employes authorize it in an election.

"This provision ought to go," he said.

Here's how the union ship differs from the closed shop:

A closed shop contract prevents the employer from hiring a worker who isn't a member of the union. A union shop contract permits the employer to hire any worker he pleases, but the worker must then join the union or get fired. Under either contract, if a worker quits the union the employer has to fire him.

Pegler's Just A Little Gnat To Eleanor!

NEW YORK —(UP)— Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt described Westbrook Pegler as "a little gnat on the horizon" today in answering a query as to why her sons don't horsewhip the syndicated columnist.

In her question and answer column in the January Ladies Home Journal, Mrs. Roosevelt was asked:

"You have three big, strong American men as sons. Why do they not horsewhip Westbrook Pegler?"

She anwsered: "I have four, not three 'big, strong American men as sons.' Why should they bother, however, to horsewhip a poor little creature like Westbrook Pegler? After all, he is such a little gnat on the horizon. He cannot touch my husband's memory."

18 Escape Injury

JOHNSON CITY, TENN.—(AP) — Fifteen passengers and three crewmen escaped injury when a Piedmont airliner made a forced landing shortly after taking off from the Tri-city airport near here last night.

Ovation Planned In N. Y.

Rescued Airmen En Route Home

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The 12 airmen snatched from a gale-whipped Greenland icecap in a dramatic "jet rescue" were southward bound today for a spectacular welcome in New York.

Lt. Col. Charles Short, public information officer at Westover Field, Mass., announced that the rescued airmen and the heroic pilots who lifted them from the icecap will be flown non-stop from Labrador to La Guardia Field, New York.

Meanwhile, the air force completed plans to fly the wife of rescue pilot Lt. Col. Emil G. Beaudry from Westover to La Guardia to greet her husband, a World War II combat ace and one of the nation's top arctic-flying experts.

Through radio messages from northland bases, it was learned that the icecap survivors along with the rescuers who took them off the ice plateau in a jet-assisted, ski-equipped C-47 transport plane, already have reached Goose Bay, Labrador.

The air force in Washington pointed out that five of the airmen have families at Blue West One, a Greenland base, and suggested that the five will wish to go there as soon as circumstances permit.

The rescued and rescuers flew to Goose Bay from Bluie West Eight, an air force field in Greenland 270 miles north of the 7,800-foot icecap plateau on which they were stranded — some of them three weeks ago today. The rescue plane flew them from the icecap to BW-8.

ONE FROST BITTEN

Only casualty among the 12 was a case of frostbite suffered by one airman, all of whom were reported "feeling fine and in good spirits" at BW-8.

The men were lifted from the icecap by Lt. Col. Emil G. Beaudry, of South Hadley, Mass., 32-year-old veteran bomber pilot and an expert in the operation of jet assisted takeoff of transport planes. He effected a similar rescue of nine marooned men a year ago.

Beaudry put his C-47 transport with ski landing gear down on the rough icecap yesterday morning, and in little more than half an hour had loaded the stranded men and taken off for BW-8.

Beaudry was the fourth pilot to attempt the rescue. Three earlier attempts had only added the would-be rescue crews to the marooned group. One attempt was made in a B-17, which dug into the snow, and two gliders were dropped to the men, but all efforts to pull them off behind transport planes failed.

The Navy also got into the effort when the carrier Saipan steamed for Greenland from Norfolk with special helicopters that the navy hoped could be used to lift the men from the snow. The Saipan was nearing Greenland when the air force announced the rescue.

Einstein Receiving Physical Checkup

NEW YORK — (INS) — Dr. Albert Einstein is under observation today at the Brooklyn Jewish hospital.

A hospital spokesman refused to give details but said the general health of the 70-year-old scientist is good, adding that Einstein is receiving "a physical checkup."

Rotarians Hear Story Of Red Cross Blood Bank

The activities of the American Red Cross were described to Rotarians at their weekly meeting in the Mansfield-Leland hotel yesterday noon by Mrs. Bess Augsburger, executive director of the Richland county Red Cross chapter.

She stressed the importance of the nationwide Red Cross blood bank program and the part Richland county will play in it. Briefly describing the operation of the system, Mrs. Augsburger said Richland county's present yearly quota is 2,200 pints of blood. The quota is likely to be raised, she added, if the use of blood in this county continues to go up.

She pointed out that although blood from the bank is furnished free to those who need it, laboratory and doctors' fees must still be paid by patients.

Mrs. Augsburger urged the Rotary club to get behind the program and arouse public interest in it.

"This program sooner or later will affect every person in Richland county," she said.

The blood bank's mobile units will make periodical visits to the Mansfield Red Cross chapter house from the blood center in Columbus.

The next visit will be made Jan. 17 and 18. Blood will be collected from the donors at those times and returned to the area pool in Columbus. Blood will be sent to Richland county hospitals according to the need.

Mrs. Augsburger was introduced by Charles Sutton, chairman to the meeting.

Approximately 8,000 tons of garbage are handled every day in New York City.

O. K. Pay Boost

Groom Nervous, Bride Tired Of Wait for Phone Wedding

FORT WORTH—(UP)—M/Sgt. John Kent, 30, was married to his Italian sweetheart today in an overseas telephone ceremony performed by a Fort Worth minister and lasting only six minutes.

Even though his bride was thousands of miles away, the sergeant was as nervous as any bridegroom. He arrived first on the scene at the Sylvan Heights Baptist church at 6:40 a. m.

For the sergeant, who arrived here shortly before midnight last night from Barksdale air field, near Shreveport, La., it was the end of nine nervous days of waiting, delays and red tape.

The overseas call went through to the United Press office in Milan at 7:35 a. m. (CST). Waiting on the other end of the line was Dina MacChetta, the sergeant's 21-year-old blond sweetheart.

Sergeant Kent picked up the phone when the connection was completed. He trembled.

"We're ready to be married, Dinah, honey," he said in a low voice into the telephone transmitter.

"I have waited long enough for this. It's about time," was the reply from the bride at the other end of the line.

Tootsies Hurt, I Wonder Why

EL PASO, Tex., — (AP) — Pedro Paseno, a Tarahumara indian runner, won a 225-mile race from Chihuahua city to Juarez, Mexico.

He carried a torch that touched off celebration of El Paso's sun carnival. Jarez is just across the border from El Paso.

Eight other indians, members of the same tribe, fell by the wayside from exposure and exhaustion. The tribe is noted for its feats of running.

Paseno covered the distance in 45 hours. His comment at the finish:

"My feet hurt."

Thieves Loot Cafe, Patrons Go Hungry

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Zuzek's cafe was back in operation today in Cleveland with plenty of liquor, lots of meat and a good deal more money than was on hand yesterday.

Michael Zuzek was forced to try to satisfy his customers with coffee and hamburgers yesterday after thieves stole the tavern's total supply of liquor, all the cafe's ham and beef, and a safe containing $100.

U. S. Fears Red Purge of Catholic Heads Spreading

See Polish Churchmen Hit Next

Catholic Cardinals Deny Allegations

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— Reliable informants said today the United States is taking "an extremely serious view"of the arrest of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty by the communist Hungarian government.

Diplomatic quarters interpreted the move as part of a general campaign against the Catholic church in eastern Europe. They said the campaign appeared approaching a climax both in Hungary and Poland.

The arrest was the subject of top-level consultations within the state department yesterday. A Hungarian communique accused the Cardinal of plotting to bring about the return of the Hapsburg monarchy to Hungary and of seeking western power aid to drive out the communists.

Its charges that the Cardinal discussed the plot in the United States last year with Francis Cardinal Spellman and Otto the Hapsburg pretender, brought flat denials here. The communique claimed the meeting with Otto took place at a monastery near Chicago.

Catholic officials here professed no knowledge of such a meeting, and Otto's brother, Archduke Felix, said: "I am sure the report is not correct."

He said Otto was currently in Paris but would return to this country for a lecture tour late in January.

Aladar Szegedy-Maszak, former Hungarian minister to the U.S. who quit his post when the communists took over, in Budapest said the charges against the Cardinal were "trumped up."

"The charge of secret monarchist plotting was thrown in obviously for the purpose of splitting the Cardinal's supporters within Hungary. Many loyal Catholics are opposed to the return of the monarchy," he said.

In New York yesterday, Francis Cardinal Spellman said the communique's allegation that Cardinal Mindszenty contacted him concerning the plot was "false."

Meanwhile diplomatic quarters here focused attention on reports that persecution of the Catholic church in Poland has been intensified in recent weeks.

Lengthy reports made available to the United Press cited repeated instances of arrests of Catholic priests and laymen, confiscation of church property and closing of church schools.

and shock. Her daughter was dismissed after treatment for cuts and bruises.

According to Rex McKinney, Crawford county sheriff's deputy, Miss Lash was driving south on Route 58 when the car skidded at a curve and crashed into the guard rail. Rain and sleet are believed to have hampered the vision of the driver, McKinney reported.

Albert Meinzer, 61, of 523 North Thoman street, Crestline, is improving in Emergency hospital there from injuries while "humping' a line of freight cars in the Pennsylvania railroad yards Monday. He was struck by a box car while jumping from another car.

$5 Million Suit Filed

NEW YORK — (U.P.) — Suits charging violation of anti-trust and anti-price discrimination laws were filed against five major distilling companies in federal court yesterday by a New York liquor wholesaler.

Joseph Sachs, operator of the Atlantic Liquor Wholesaler, the Bronx, and a chain of branches throughout the state, asked more than $5,000,000 damages from Frankfort Distillers association, Seagrams, incorporated, Joseph E. Seagram & Son, incorporated, National Distillers Products corporation and Brown-Forman Distillers corporation.

The suit also asked an accounting of all case liquor sold by all the defendants to state liquor authorities in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Oregon and Washington.

Sachs contended that the defendants sold $1 a case cheaper to the state authorities than to him.

Granted Permit

A Mansfielder was among 47 Ohioans who today were granted permits by the Ohio department of liquor control. A beer carry-out C-1 permit was granted to H. E. Frey, of 2780 Spring Mill road.

As you may have noticed, it's easier to make good resolutions than it is to keep them.

There is appearance of growth in belief that the Chinese should be allowed another several thousand years in which to solve their internal problems.

Truman's Frank Rebuke of Russia

ASIDE from frank mention of Soviet Russia as the most serious obstacle to peace plans, President Truman really said nothing new in his much-talked-about "off-the-cuff" speech in Kansas City Monday.

It has been known all along, for instance, that "contracts are not sacred with the Soviet government," and it was merely repetition to say that specific agreements reached at Potsdam and Yalta have not been kept.

Those who have kept in touch with developments in the United Nations organization realize that progress has been hampered by Russia's obstinate attitude, and the Berlin situation provides further proof of the difficulties being encountered in establishing accord in Europe.

In the absence of elaboration of President Truman's statement that certain Russian leaders "are exceedingly anxious to have an understanding with us" there can be no certainty that this is based on knowledge, rather than surmise or "wishful thinking."

It is gratifying, however, to again be assured that the President plans to continue efforts "to reach an understanding on the basis that peace is possible with all nations," and to persuade the Soviet government that: "We don't want any territory; we don't want to hurt anyone in the world—all we want is peace."

Passing soon from one year into another, it appears that the greatest "unfinished business" of 1948 is that which involves present strained relations between the United States and the Soviet Union, for it is this that will go far in determining whether 1949 will bring progress toward permanent world peace or appearance of approach to another war—with resort to atomic weapons of unimaginable destructive power.

Too Many Kinds of 3-Cent Stamps

REVIEWING the long list of commemorative 3-cent postage stamps issued in 1948, it may be wondered if the incoming Congress will pursue a similar course—which seemed to verge closely on a racket conducted at the expense of philatelists—the rather ornate word for stamp collectors.

Argue, if you will, that all of the commemorative issues were justified—but you still have too many of them for a single year—29, in fact.

Early in the year there was the George Washington Carver; the Discovery of Gold; Mississippi; Four Chaplains; Wisconsin statehood, and Progress of Women, but it was during the last six months of the year that Congress loosed the real flood of commemoratives—22 of them.

Look! New York Golden Anniversary; William Allen White; U. S.-Canada Friendship; Francis Scott Key; Salute to Youth; Oregon territory; Harland Fiske Stone; Palomar observatory; Clara Barton; poultry industry; Gold Star Mothers; Fort Kearney; Volunteer Firemen; Indian Centennial; Rough Riders; Will Rogers; Fort Bliss; Moina Michael; Juliette Low; Gettysburg Address; American Turners Society, and Joel Chandler Harris.

Opportunity for "first day mailings" was extensively publicized, which means that many millions were uselessly mailed, needlessly cancelled and actually wasted:

Commemoratives were in a variety of sizes and colors, thus complicating post office handling. Congressmen would be well advised to keep their hands off the matter of ordering issuance of commemorative stamps and return this responsibility to the postmaster general, where it belongs.

Name That Always Makes News

AN UNFORTUNATE phase about possession of the Roosevelt name is the fact that relatively inconsequential happenings are made to seem important as a result of the publicity considered essential in connection with the magic name.

This time it is such a minor matter as brief hospitalization of Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt (actress Faye Emerson) that is brought extensively to public notice, because, according to information received by the sheriff at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., she had slashed her wrist with a razor blade "after a family quarrel," and that she had been restrained from injuring herself further.

This seemed to make it necessary, of course, to rehash that Elliott Roosevelt and Faye Emerson were married four years ago, he for the third time and she for the second; that Elliott has four children by former marriages, and Mrs. Roosevelt one child by her former marriage.

An advantage of being just "ordinary folks" is that, in the absence of the Roosevelt name, the incident deemed worthy of a long story with big headlines would scarcely have been accorded even brief mention in the home town paper.

New Year's Resolutions Have Value

WHILE there is much joking about New Year's resolutions—based on the idea that they are quickly broken—there is something to commend this practice if it involves serious effort to break bad habits or induce more orderly living.

No one of experience would attempt, in these days, to operate a household without a budget. It is a financial guide, which lists the expenses which must be allowed for, those which one can hope to be able to make, and balances these expenses against income.

But many people try to run their lives without a budget. The old-fashioned list of resolutions was a guide. On it one could mark down certain things which had to be done in the year ahead, and other things he would like to do. Against this list, from time to time, he could balance the time, the energy, and the strength of will for carrying out each resolution.

Dutch Energy Produces Results

A PLEASANT surprise comes from the Netherlands.

Walcheren Island, where the dikes were destroyed by Allied bombings, has been put under cultivation again, with 37,000 out of 38,000 acres yielding crops. It had been feared that the soaking of the soil with salt would not allow a return to farming for at least five years.

This confirms an American impression that the Dutch are a hard-working people whom nothing can discourage.

"Where Do We Go From Here?"

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Competent Investigating Agency Needed

AFTER the cruel mess that Congressman Mundt made of the death of Laurence Duggan, congressional as well as general public opinion is going to demand a new sort of un-American activities committee or no committee at all.

This affair brings to light once more all the defects which have attended the committee's activities from the beginning. It is not mere procedure that needs to be changed. A good committee creates good procedure. The matter goes back to personnel and facilities for investigation.

The investigation, disclosure and correction of a situation in which personal guilt, bad practices and inadequate laws are involved requires very special competence.

Outstanding congressional investigations such as the Teapot Dome affair show that. It is shown, too, by such local investigations as Maurice Milligan's probe of the Pendergast machine in Kansas City, Samuel Seabury's raking of Tammany and Thomas E. Dewey's exposure of racketeering in New York City.

In all these instances a strong, systematic and meticulously careful lawyer spear-headed the investigation. Mountains of evidence must be gathered, sifted and pieced together. A vast amount of gossip, rumor and surmise must be considered but verified.

* * *

Beware of Crackpots!

ANYONE who has been in such an investigation or who has worked in an ordinary prosecutor's office learns how loosely character assassination is always drifting around. Crackpots of all sorts come in with weird stories about most reputable and innocent people.

Such victims must be protected in the strict confidence of the investigators. Names must not be brought into public hearings unless they are vitally necessary to the objective sought.

The investigators must always consider how the irresponsible elements of the press will blow up a casual inference into a damning and lasting smear of innocent people. The major objective must be pursued inexorably, and all interesting but irrelevant detours must be avoided.

All this requires great legal ability and strict centralized control by a strong man. The late Thomas J. Walsh, Millegan, Seabury and Dewey were such investigators.

The present un-American activities committee is headed by an insurance broker. There seem to be only four lawyers among the members, and the two who appear to have had any considerable experience in the law have been somewhat inactive.

The chief investigator, Robert Stripling, is not a lawyer. Mundt seems to have spent most of his non-political life in such specialties as speech and social science teaching, fish and game, loan and investments.

The evidence of gross lack of preparation of cases by the committee is spread all through the record. Its work has always been scattered. And since the physical and legal difficulties of Thomas, the committee has been virtually headless.

Thus un-manned and undirected, its members been running in all directions. It is no wonder that such a careening vehicle has hit innocent bystanders. The wonder is that there have been so few casualties.

This government is entitled to better service or none at all.

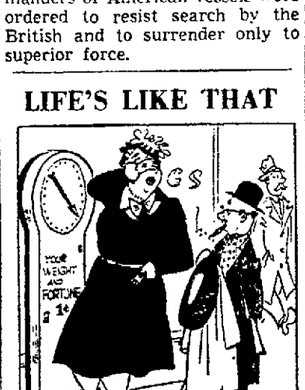
LIFE'S LIKE THAT



"I don't want to know my weight. . . . Just my fortune."

The Nation Today

Maybe So, Maybe Not

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Maybe President Truman stuck a needle in the Russian bigwigs.

He was just saying a few words at a Kansas City luncheon for his old partner in the haberdashery business, Eddie Jacobson.

And suddenly he said Russia made agreements with this country but hasn't kept them. Then he added:

"There are certain leaders in the government of that great country who are exceedingly anxious to have an understanding with us."

That was all. No names. He didn't say who wants to have an understanding with us. But he must have meant some of the 13 members of the Politburo, the top communists, including Joseph Stalin, who run Russia.

We'll never know what happened when Mr. Truman's words reached the Kremlin. But imagine a scene like this:

Mr. Stalin suddenly hears shouts and a big argument outside his office.

He throws open the door and sees the other 12 Politburo men waving their arms and talking, all trying to read the news ticker.

He pushes through the crowd and reads Mr. Truman's words. His black mustache twitches.

He says "chto - to - vonyaet," which in Russian means something like "I smell a rat."

One by one he looks at the other 12 men and says "Let's meet." The 13 go into his office and sit silently around the long table.

Finally Mr. Stalin says "chorosho (which means 'okay'), now who's been slipping out word he's a good guy to have an understanding with?"

* * *

Just Supposing, of Course.

Mr. Stalin catches Beria looking at him and says: "Chorosho, Beria. Has something been going on your cops don't know?"

"My cops are all right," says Beria, not saying yes or no.

Mr. Stalin looks around the room again: "Who's been talking?"

"Wait a minute before you start pegging stones around," says Mr. Vyacheslav Molotov, the foreign minister, looking at Mr. Stalin.

Mr. Molotov pulls a newspaper clipping out of his brief case and says to the whole Politburo:

"I have a story here about a speech Mr. Truman made on the night of June 11, 1948, at Eugene, Oregon, on the west coast of the United States.

"Mr. Truman said, and I quote, 'I got very well acquainted with Joe Stalin. I like old Joe. Joe is a decent fellow. But he is a prisoner of the Politburo. He makes certain agreements, but he can't keep them. They won't let him'."

Mr. Stalin's mustache is twitching. "Now, look," he says, "when Mr. Truman said that, I thought I told you that . . ."

Anyway . . . maybe something like that happened in the Kremlin. There's a very good chance nothing like that happened at all because—

Mr. Truman may be wrong in thinking there can be any real understanding with Russia or any of its leaders.

Since the communist leaders have based their whole lives on the belief that communism must eventually win out over capitalism, any understanding with them would have to be a temporary thing.

But if, by any chance, there's suspicion among the members of the Politburo, then Mr. Truman's statement threw a new log on the fire.

As Others See It

Merely a Suggestion.

Counterfeiting money is risky, and if we were a penman we'd turn to making our own stamps, no two of which these days are expected to be alike — Kansas City Star.

Gen. Clay's False Alarm Sets Off Jitters

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It looks as if the mystery over the bungled intelligence report which almost caused American mobilization last spring is now on the way of being solved.

The Army is trying to hush it up, but it was Gen. Lucius Clay who set off the false alarm leading to the worst case of war jitters since Pearl Harbor.

Actually, it probably wasn't Clay's fault. He had warned the Army department last March that Russia might be preparing to attack. But he added that his estimate was based not on military evidence, but upon the Russian attitude in Berlin.

As it turned out, Clay was right in sensing that the Russians were up to something. But he sensed the wrong thing. What the Russians were up to was not war but the Berlin blockade.

When Clay made his report to Washington, lights burned several nights in the Pentagon building while the Intelligence experts diagnosed the situation, and pieced together various reasons why he was right.

Result was a faulty intelligence report which almost caused President Truman to ask Congress for general mobilization.

Marshall's Health.

SECRETARY Marshall's doctors have informed him that he must definitely resign as secretary of state.

Marshall made a rapid recovery immediately after his operation, but since then his recovery has slowed up in rather a disturbing manner.

The secretary of state had hoped to spend Christmas at his Pinehurst home, but couldn't. Later he asked doctors if he could go to Leesburg, Va., for the holidays. But the doctors again said no.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Marshall has put her foot down that her husband must resign as secretary of state. Chief Justice Fred Vinson looks like the man to take his place.

WASPS To Fly Again.

VIVACIOUS Jacqueline Cochran, the ex-beauty parlor magnate, now wife of financial magnate Floyd Odlum, has ambitions for bringing back the WASPS.

Miss Cochran, whose good motives in wartime were unquestioned, but whose efficiency was questioned, has written a confidential letter to former WASPS informing them that they are to be offered commissions in the Air Force Reserve.

The women's air force service pilots, otherwise known as the WASPS or "petticoat pilots," was formed in wartime to replace male pilots in behind-the-lines duty, thus putting more men at the front.

Many of the WASPS did magnificent jobs, put in gruelling hours ferrying planes, did more than ever expected. But other lady pilots behaved somewhat like their names — they stung.

There was more jealousy, petty bickering, also more wasted manpower than in any branch of the services. Finally Congress and Air Corps brass hats decided the cost of training was too great. The WASPS were disbanded. Miss Cochran then kept the group alive as the Order of Fifinella.

Recently the Order of Fifinella received a letter from its wartime mistress, which read:

"This information is for our membership or potential membership and is not for public release," wrote Miss Cochran mysteriously and joyously. "I am very pleased to be able to tell you now . . . that the WASP are going to be offered at an early date commissions in the Air Force Reserve.

"WASP who meet other requirements are also going to be able to qualify as second lieutenants in the active air force."

Actually the WASPS never held military status of any kind during the war. Nevertheless Miss Cochran expects them now to become full-fledged commissioned officers in the air force.

This news has made male pilots irked and unhappy — to put it mildly. In fact, some are burnt up. The Air Force reserve does not have enough planes to keep its own reserve pilots flying, yet it appears to have agreed to grant commissions for flying time put in with the WASPS.

Male reserve pilots can imagine the new scramble for planes with the men bowing to the ladies and saying: "Of course you can have that plane for your flying time. By all means."

GOP In Red.

JIM KEMPER, the big life-insurance mogul who is treasurer of the Republican national committee, has sent out a personalized form letter to thousands of party workers appealing for funds.

The Republicans are $330,000 in the red, says Kemper, and winds up his appeal by asking for "the benefit of your recommendations."

To this, one GOP recipient of the letter, C. T. Anderson of Arlington, Va., replied:

"I am not surprised that your accounts may be low. After spending the equivalent of the national debt in the last election, your deficit of only $330,000 is something to behold. I keep seeing pictures before my eyes of all that display advertising—in Minnesota and Illinois. I also remember a guy named Harry Truman being cut off the air during a major address for lack of funds. Maybe money ain't the answer to the problem."

Assignment: America

Remote, But Possible

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — Considering all of the physical and intelligence precautions which have been taken, it would seem that the United States Atomic Energy Commission headquarters in Washington is as adequately protected as is possible.

And in a sense, perhaps it is—barring the coincidental development of a couple of not-too-remote conditions:

The first would be deterioration of the "cold war" situation to the point where enemy agents would risk the reverberations of an obviously overt act:

Second would be the assumption that such agents would be adequately briefed to know what information to look for in A.E.C. headquarters, where to find it and what to do with it, once it was stolen.

Both are possibilities which do not strain the imagination.

Viewed in that light, the capital's most carefully-guarded building does not seem so safe after all. In fact, countless veteran police, military, espionage and sabotage experts have insisted to this correspondent that it would be a push-over for a relatively small, hand-picked group of enemy agents.

For the most part, such men do not blame the A.E.C. officials in charge of security; nor do they criticize or minimize the efficiency of the approximately one hundred guards who protect the building which presumably houses vital atomic secrets.

Rather, they tend to blame the lack of a tested emergency liaison system between the A.E. C. security men and other military and law enforcement officers in the area.

To some extent, of course, this attitude might possibly be traceable to the jealousy which has existed between the A.E.C. and the military chieftains since the early days of their fight for control of the "big firecracker." But other observers, with no seeming axe to grind, tend to agree.

* * *

Weak Spots Suspected.

A VETERAN law-enforcement officer, commenting on the A.E.C. security layout, said:

"It's probably the best you can do, without setting up actual wartime military conditions, but as it stands, it wouldn't be much tougher to raid than a good many big eastern banks—and we've found from sad experience that they can be robbed. Of course, you'd have to assume that the gang knew what to look for; atomic secrets aren't as easy to spot as folding money!"

An ex-infantry officer who is a veteran of considerable house-to-house combat in the past war agreed:

"Give me a small element of surprise—and I think that could be arranged from the looks of the layout—and I'll bet I could take the joint with a platoon of line veterans. Of course, I'd have to know what to look for, once we had the building."

A man who saw considerable behind-the-lines espionage and sabotage work during the war said that, despite the meticulous screening at the doors, it would not be too difficult to "slip a few 'sleepers' into the building" in preparation for such a coup.

Even some of those working in the building feel there should be some tested method of calling reinforcements onto the scene in a matter of minutes—of surrounding the entire area with soldiers, if necessary, in such an emergency.

Asked if such a liaison system existed, an Army and an FBI spokesman each said "No." Asked why not, the Army man shrugged and said: "Ask the atomic energy people."

Questioned about it, an A.E.C. spokesman said: "Well, I don't think we have any right to ask them for help. The law makes it our responsibility."

It's a big one.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

THIS was a year of groping for security . . . Even the people who elected Harry Truman in November to solve their problems had turned to the Schmoo by year's end.

* * *

And what a year for upsets with Dewey finishing second, the Giants finishing fifth and Mrs. Harrison Williams finishing seventh.

* * *

A candidate may stir up his party or a ball club shake up its team, but how does a seventh-place fashion winner alert her dressmakers for a pennant dash in '49?

* * *

Anyway it was a fantastic year in which comedians insured their programs against jackpots but networks forgot to insure their comedians against hi-jacking.

* * *

But 1948 will go down in history as the year in which television came home without a beer breath.

* * *

And it will be long remembered as the year in which grand juries took a legal interest in the pumpkin crop.

As Cerf Tells It

Two old men sat in the sun in a very poor section of Chicago. "Such news in the paper," complained one. "War scares, inflation, strikes, murders! It's enough to make a man wish he'd never been born."

"That's right," agreed the other. "But who has such luck? Not one in a hundred thousand."

Speaking of Your Health

Health Exam Each Year

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

ONE of the many reasons why each of us should have an annual health audit is to be sure that the great filtering plant in the body—the kidneys—is in good working order. One of the disorders of the kidney is brought about when stones form in them.

Fortunately, in recent years, a great deal has been learned about kidney stones which may be made up of different types of chemicals.

Calcium Oxalate.

For example, some contain calcium oxalate. These are the most common stones found in persons in the United States. They may also contain calcium phosphate, uric acid, and cystine, which is an amino acid. Most stones are made up of a mixture of these various substances.

Oxalate stones are small, dark, round, and hard; calcium phosphate stones small, white, soft, and chalky; uric acid stones small and usually quite yellow in color, and cystine stones have a waxy appearance.

Cause Unknown.

Exactly why kidney stones form is not difinitely known as yet, although many scientists are working on this problem.

However, there are some who believe that they are formed around a small bit of material. This may come from a deposit of calcium or lime salts in the kidney from the blood. Thus, any factor which speeds up the elimination of salts through the kidney would tend to cause the stone to grow rapidly.

These factors include blocking of the flow of the urine, prolonged rest in bed and the drinking of too little water, infections of any kind in the kidneys, the taking of insufficient fluids, and excessive sweating.

Fever and Chills.

The symptoms of kidney stones consist of pain, often with fever and chills. The diagnosis, as a rule, is not difficult. Often, blood is found in the urine. Many of the stones can be seen in the X-ray plate.

In treating the condition, if the pain is severe, and it usually is, some opiate is often necessary. It is important, if there is infection present, that such preparations as penicillin or the sulfonamide drugs be given.

Farmer's Diary

Agricultural Almanac

By CALVIN A. BYERS

STACKED on the counter of our village drugstore I saw dozens of copies of a familiar almanac — John Baer's Sons, Lancaster, Penna. The quaint old-fashioned cover bore the words "124th Vol. Price 20c." Beneath the marked price was the traditional illustration of the tree arching above the seal of the state of Pennsylvania—two female figures representing household and harvest.

Upon a shield, the sheaf of wheat and the plow—an oldtime wooden moldboard plow such as my uncle made for spring plowing. The spinning wheel, the distaff, the sheep to furnish wool, the sickle, the horn of plenty, in the far background a steam boat on the Susquehanna. . . . peace and prosperity in any language. The most up-to-date feature upon the cover was the year 1949.

The price my father used to pay for this almanac was 5 cents. At 20 cents it is still a bargain. Within those flimsy covers is enclosed a wealth of sentiment and Pennsylvania Dutch lore.

I have still in my possession one of these almanacs, printed in German. One page bears marks in heavy pencil around the date when my father and his twin sister, Mary, were born. The back of the almanac is soiled — drenched by rain that beat in between two logs, and showing the color of them. It stayed between the logs of the cabin wall for a long time, and was found by Aunt Mary, to become part of a spinster's treasures.

This modern issue has most of the oldtime features still intact. "The rising, setting and eclipses of the sun and moon; the aspects of the planets, the rising, setting and southing of the conspicuous planets and fixed stars, the equation of time and the time of high water at Philadelphia; with a variety of useful and entertaining matter."

Among these last I enjoyed the following: "The wildest colts make the best horses." Plutarch; Plain Talk To Girls, from Baer's of 1875: "Your everyday toilet is part of your character"; "Do right and fear no man. Don't write and fear no woman";—In buying citrus fruit remember that the best and juciest fruit is heavy and check by weight; Mother Goose was really the wife of one Isaac Goose, who lived in Boston; Save old Christmas trees and use the branches for mulching.

Now I'll have to get busy and figure out the planting signs.

The American La France corporation of Elmira offered their bid of $18,300 to include extra equipment. Their truck has a V-12 motor with 204 B. H. P., a wheelbase of 220 inches, an overall length of 420 inches and a total weight of 18,200 pounds. An additional feature of the La France is a cab-in-front-of-wheels.

Hurt Bucyrus Youth To Undergo Surgery

BUCYRUS—William F. Hawk, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hawk, Bucyrus, entered Grant hospital, Columbus, yesterday to undergo bone surgery. Young Hawk was injured seriously in an automobile-motor scooter accident in Bucyrus last June. A companion, Carol Keesy, 13, was killed.

The youth suffered fracture of the pelvis and left thigh and was confined to Bucyrus City hospital for nearly six months. His parents said he probably would remain in the Columbus hospital another six months.

Predicts Tire Sales Boost

AKRON — (INS) — John L. Collyer, president of the B. F. Goodrich company, predicted today that an estimated 2,000,000 more tires will be sold next year than in 1948.

Collyer asserted that total industry sales for 1948 are estimated now at 84,000,000 tire units, and barring unforseen events, should reach 86,000,000 in 1949.

He said the industry has consumed 55 per cent more rubber in three years since V-J day of 1945 than it did in its three previous peak years added together.

School Unit Safety Work Told to Club

Galion Kiwanians Learn About Patrol

GALION — Grace Thomas, secretary of the Galion Automobile club, yesterday presented a safety program at the luncheon-meeting of the Galion Kiwanis club at Hotel Talbott. She was assisted by Morris Bowers, city patrolman, and David Sherer, one of the four captains of the Safety Patrol at the North elementary school. The program was in charge of Charles Alcorn of the Kiwanis club.

City Patrolman Bowers in his talk to the club, highly commended the school safety patrol and told how it is safeguarding the lives of all school children, how the members are on duty at street intersections of school zones in all kinds of weather, and of the merits of the automobile club in promoting this safety movement.

"A State Highway engineer made the statement that members of the school safety patrol on duty are more effective than a traffic light," Bowers told the Kiwanians.

The program was concluded when a safety film, "Traffic with the Devil," was shown by Mrs. Thomas through the courtesy of the Cleveland Automobile club. The projectionist was John Moore.

Traffic booklets were distributed to each member.

Miss Geraldine Noah Becomes Bride of Grand Rapids Man

A WHITE velvet gown made by her mother was worn by Miss Geraldine Ellen Noah for her marriage Tuesday to Charles Hudson Moore. It was beautiful in its simplicity, made with a sweetheart neckline and long, pointed sleeves. Her fingertip veil was attached to a star-shaped velvet tiara and trimmed with eighteen white velvet poinsettias. This was designed by Karene Blanding of Grand Rapids. The only jewelry worn by the bride was a double strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom's mother.

The nuptial vows were solemnized in the First Methodist church, Berea, Ohio at 7:30 in the evening. Dr. H. J. Smith, vice president of Baldwin-Wallace college and head of the psychology department there, officiated for the ceremony. The vows were spoken before an altar decorated in holiday greens and holly. Two white poinsettia plants and candelabra were placed in front of the altar.

Mrs. Gerald Wyatt, Mansfield, was the soloist for the ceremony and Mrs. Glenn Lockhardt, West Lafayette, Ohio, presided at the organ.

Miss Noah is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alden W. Noah, Lexington, Ohio, and Mr. Moore is the son of John Hudson Moore, New York City, and Mrs. Arleene Y. Moore, Larchmont, New York.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bridal party was made up of Mrs. Ervin Folley, Cleveland, Ohio, matron of honor, Miss Eugenia Ellis, Berea, Ohio, high school and college friend of the bride, Elizabeth Ragg, Berea, a friend of the bride, and Miss Mary Margaret Shook, Canton, Ohio, cousin of the bride, served as bridesmaids. Miss Alice Ellen Carpenter, Lexington, cousin of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid.

The matron of honor was attired in a gown of dark green velvet, an exact replica of the bride's, but without a train. She wore a single strand of pearls. Her bouquet was of colonial design with red and white poinsettias. Miss Ellis and Miss Ragg wore bright red velvet gowns with pearls and carried colonial bouquets of red poinsettias. Miss Shook's gown was of light green velvet and she carried a colonial bouquet of salmon poinsettias. She also wore a strand of pearls. All were identical gowns made over the same pattern as the bride's dress. The junior bridesmaid wore a bright red velvet formal with pearls and carried a colonial bouquet of tiny red and white poinsettias.

The master and mistress of ceremonies for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Adams of Lakewood, Ohio. Mrs. Adams wore a grey stonecutter crepe dinner dress with a white carnation corsage.

After Jan. 11 they will be at home at 559 Morris avenue, SE., Grand Rapids, Mich.

A reception was held in the church following the ceremony. Music was furnished by Miss Mabel Dean Shook, violinist, senior at Baldwin-Wallace conservatory of music. The hostesses for the affair were Miss Mary Rooney, Princeton, New Jersey, Miss Edith Schmidt, Miss Elaine Smith and Miss Lenora Smith, Berea, Miss Arleene Boorn, Middlefield, Ohio, and Miss Rebecca Shook of Uniontown, Ohio.

The bride formerly was program director of the teen age department at the westside and central branches of the YWCA, Cleveland. At present she is the Y-Teen executive director of the Grand Rapids YWCA. She graduated from Baldwin-Wallace college at Berea in 1944. The bridegroom was graduated from Yale university in 1942 and served 42 months in the army. He is a reporter for The Grand Rapids Press.

HOROSCOPE

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, December 30

BY dint of hard work, serious consideration and the timely aid of influential personages, it may be possible to break up some disruptive or challenging situation in which the fortunes, general advantage and welfare are at stake. Grasp conditions with discretion and sound analysis and with an eye to peculiar undercurrents which menace in subtle ways. It may be desirable to confer with influential persons for new propositions, after sound appraisal, but be careful not to jump at conclusions through emotional urges.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is should be able to discriminate between the true and the false, by the use of intelligent consideration of underlying conditions or unusual prospects. While there is danger of intrigue, allure and strange experiences, yet wise selection could enlist support from high places, especially in launching exceptional or ingenious projects. Sidestep glamor and illusion for commonsense as erratic impulses are likely to develop disintegration or loss.

A child born on this day while disposed to industry, application and good sense, may also feel the lure of emotional drives or other high adventure. The "straight and narrow" will assure progress although heightened by unusual experiences

This Is a Woman's Year In Hollywood

The actress of the year in Hollywood is Loretta Young. While most of the smart money tabbed Rosalind Russell a cinch to win the Academy award for the soul-searching "Morning Becomes Electra," Loretta came through with a victory for her performance in the light-hearted "The Farmer's Daughter." The Oscar climaxed a 20-year film career for the 35-year-old actress and ranked with President Truman, and the Navy and U.S.C. football teams among the year's upsets.

It was a good year for actresses in Hollywood, with several performances looming large for the 1948 Academy awards. Among them: Irene Dunne, "I Remember Mama"; Ingrid Bergman, "Joan of Arc"; Barbara Stanwyck, "Sorry, Wrong Number"; Jane Wyman, "Johnny Belinda"; Olivia De Havilland, "The Snake Pit." It's anybody's race.

Outstanding newcomer is Betsy Drake, discovered in a London play by Cary Grant. She scored a hit as his co-star in E"very Girl Should Be Married" and it was reported that Cary's interest in her was personal, too.

YOUR FAVORITE?

Is French toast a favorite of yours? Then you'll like these French Toasted sandwiches. First make sandwiches of enriched white bread Fillings of peanut butter, cheese, peanut butter mixed with honey, and prepared sandwich spreads are especially good. Dip each sandwich into a milk and egg mixture made by combining one and one-half cups milk, one well beaten egg, and one-eighth teaspoon of salt. Fry the sandwiches in butter or margarine, letting them brown evenly at a moderate temperature. Serve hot. A garnish of broiled peach or apricot halves is tasty and attractive.

SEWING HINT

When you machine-stitch rayon jersey, stretch the fabric a little and keep the tension loose so that the seam will be as elastic as the fabric itself. Because of the construction of this fabric, you'll find that a fine needle is easier to use.

Miss Geraldine Noah Becomes Bride of Grand Rapids Man

A WHITE velvet gown made by her mother was worn by Miss Geraldine Ellen Noah for her marriage Tuesday to Charles Hudson Moore. It was beautiful in its simplicity, made with a sweetheart neckline and long, pointed sleeves. Her fingertip veil was attached to a star-shaped velvet tiara and trimmed with eighteen white velvet poinsettias. This was designed by Karene Blanding of Grand Rapids. The only jewelry worn by the bride was a double strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom's mother.

The nuptial vows were solemnized in the First Methodist church, Berea, Ohio at 7:30 in the evening. Dr. H. J. Smith, vice president of Baldwin-Wallace college and head of the psychology department there, officiated for the ceremony. The vows were spoken before an altar decorated in holiday greens and holly. Two white poinsettia plants and candelabra were placed in front of the altar.

Mrs. Gerald Wyatt, Mansfield, was the soloist for the ceremony and Mrs. Glenn Lockhardt, West Lafayette, Ohio, presided at the organ.

Miss Noah is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alden W. Noah, Lexington, Ohio, and Mr. Moore is the son of John Hudson Moore, New York City, and Mrs. Arleene Y. Moore, Larchmont, New York.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Noah carried a colonial arrangement bouquet with one large white poinsettia surrounded by a dozen tiny white poinsettias.

The bridal party was made up of Mrs. Ervin Folley, Cleveland, Ohio, matron of honor, Miss Eugenia Ellis, Berea, Ohio, high school and college friend of the bride, Elizabeth Ragg, Berea, a friend of the bride, and Miss Mary Margaret Shook, Canton, Ohio, cousin of the bride, served as bridesmaids. Miss Alice Ellen Carpenter, Lexington, cousin of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid.

The matron of honor was attired in a gown of dark green velvet, an exact replica of the bride's, but without a train. She wore a single strand of pearls. Her bouquet was of colonial design with red and white poinsettias. Miss Ellis and Miss Ragg wore bright red velvet gowns with pearls and carried colonial bouquets of red poinsettias. Miss Shook's gown was of light green velvet and she carried a colonial bouquet of salmon poinsettias. She also wore a strand of pearls. All were identical gowns made over the same pattern as the bride's dress. The junior bridesmaid wore a bright red velvet formal with pearls and carried a colonial bouquet of tiny red and white poinsettias.

Guests were ushered to their pews by Ervin Folley, Tom Webb, Lakewood, Ohio, Don Philip Carpenter, Lexington, and Donald Dean Shook, Lorain, was the junior usher.

The master and mistress of ceremonies for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Adams of Lakewood, Ohio. Mrs. Adams wore a grey stonecutter crepe dinner dress with a white carnation corsage.

After Jan. 11 they will be at home at 559 Morris avenue, SE., Grand Rapids, Mich.

A reception was held in the church following the ceremony. Music was furnished by Miss Mabel Dean Shook, violinist, senior at Baldwin-Wallace conservatory of music. The hostesses for the affair were Miss Mary Rooney, Princeton, New Jersey, Miss Edith Schmidt, Miss Elaine Smith and Miss Lenora Smith, Berea, Miss Arleene Boorn, Middlefield, Ohio, and Miss Rebecca Shook of Uniontown, Ohio.

The bride formerly was program director of the teen age department at the westside and central branches of the YWCA, Cleveland. At present she is the Y-Teen executive director of the Grand Rapids YWCA. She graduated from Baldwin-Wallace college at Berea in 1944. The bridegroom was graduated from Yale university in 1942 and served 42 months in the army. He is a reporter for The Grand Rapids Press.

HOROSCOPE

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, December 30

BY dint of hard work, serious consideration and the timely aid of influential personages, it may be possible to break up some disruptive or challenging situation in which the fortunes, general advantage and welfare are at stake. Grasp conditions with discretion and sound analysis and with an eye to peculiar undercurrents which menace in subtle ways. It may be desirable to confer with influential persons for new propositions, after sound appraisal, but be careful not to jump at conclusions through emotional urges.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is should be able to discriminate between the true and the false, by the use of intelligent consideration of underlying conditions or unusual prospects. While there is danger of intrigue, allure and strange experiences, yet wise selection could enlist support from high places, especially in launching exceptional or ingenious projects. Sidestep glamor and illusion for commonsense as erratic impulses are likely to develop disintegration or loss.

A child born on this day while disposed to industry, application and good sense, may also feel the lure of emotional drives or other high adventure. The "straight and narrow" will assure progress although heightened by unusual experiences.

Wrap gifts on a flat surface and have all your equipment, such as scissors, ribbons and seals ready to use.

This Is a Woman's Year In Hollywood

The actress of the year in Hollywood is Loretta Young. While most of the smart money tabbed Rosalind Russell a cinch to win the Academy award for the soul-searching "Morning Becomes Electra," Loretta came through with a victory for her performance in the light-hearted "The Farmer's Daughter." The Oscar climazed a 20-year film career for the 35-year-old actress and ranked with President Truman, and the Navy and U.S.C. football teams among the year's upsets.

It was a good year for actresses in Hollywood, with several performances looming large for the 1948 Academy awards. Among them: Irene Dunne, "I Remember Mama"; Ingrid Bergman, "Joan of Arc"; Barbara Stanwyck, "Sorry, Wrong Number"; Jane Wyman, "Johnny Belinda"; Olivia De Havilland, "The Snake Pit." It's anybody's race.

Outstanding newcomer is Betsy Drake, discovered in a London play by Cary Grant. She scored a hit as his co-star in E"very Girl Should Be Married" and it was reported that Cary's interest in her was personal, too.

YOUR FAVORITE?

Is French toast a favorite of yours? Then you'll like these French Toasted sandwiches. First make sandwiches of enriched white bread. Fillings of peanut butter, cheese, peanut butter mixed with honey, and prepared sandwich spreads are especially good Dip each sandwich into a milk and egg mixture made by combining one and one-half cups milk, one well beaten egg, and one-eighth teaspoon of salt. Fry the sandwiches in butter or margarine, letting them brown evenly at a moderate temperature. Serve hot. A garnish of broiled peach or apricot halves is tasty and attractive.

SEWING HINT

When you machine-stitch rayon jersey, stretch the fabric a little and keep the tension loose so that the seam will be as elastic as the fabric itself. Because of the construction of this fabric, you'll find that a fine needle is easier to use.

Will Probe Charge Of Gas Profit Grab

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— Officials of the Ohio Public Utilities commission denied today that they have ordered an investigation of alleged diversion of natural gas in various parts of Ohio.

★

COLUMBUS, — (INS) — Alleged diversions of natural gas supplies for higher profit will come under an investigation by the State Utilities Commission.

Harry Fitzgerald, assistant attorney general, said yesterday that officials in some 200 Ohio communities will be invited to attend a hearing before the PUCO on Jan. 18.

Fitzgerald said the commission originally scheduled the hearing to consider extension of last year's order placing gas supplies on a basis of emergency curtailment.

The commission moved to include other factors in the hearing upon receipt of numerous complaints that natural gas was being diverted from one community to another to gain the advantage of higher prices.

Fitzgerald said complaints came principally from the Akron area now served by the East Ohio Gas company.

However, commission chairman Harry Miller stated that no notice of alleged diversions had come to his attention. Miller said the hearing was being held solely to consider the extension of last year's emergency order.

C. I. Weaver, president of the Ohio Fuel Gas company which serves Mansfield was one of those slated to appear before the commission.

Post-War Study Ends

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—The coming of the new year will bring an end to Ohio's post-war program commission, created five and a half years ago to chart a course of state improvement in the post-war years.

There are strong indications, however, that the commission will be revised under a new name by the 98th general assembly, which convenes Jan. 3.

The commission was given an extension of life by the legislature two years ago but it was written into the law that the commission would make a final report before the "....31st day of December, 1948, on which day it shall cease to exist."

State Senator Roscoe R. Walcutt, R., Columbus, commission chairman said the final report has been made and the commission will close its offices here Friday.

The new legislature, it is believed, may set up a permanent research council to take over the work handled by the post-war commission since 1943.

During its lifetime, the commission functioned through committees set up to study particular problems. The final report contains reports and recommendations of 13 such committees.

Matters studied by special committees of the commission included re-organization of most of the state's conservation and natural resources agencies, methods of dealing with blind and deaf children, beach erosion, building codes, drainage laws, state office space, taxation, labor, and penal institutions.

LONDON — (INS) — Movie Actress Rita Hayworth and Prince Aly Khan secluded themselves today in exclusive Ritz hotel. The couple arrived in the prince's private plane from Ireland.

Note New Firm

PIQUA —(AP)— This city's third new industry in five months, the the Vendolator Manufacturing company of Fresno, Calif., will begin operations Jan. 1. The company, which manufactures coin-operated beverage coolers, will employ at least 25 persons at the outset.

School Leaders Propose Ohio Redistricting Plan

COLUMBUS, — (UP) — Three state associations of school leaders yesterday proposed a plan to redistrict Ohio's schools which they said would save taxpayers several million dollars a year.

The program as outlined by Harold Vincent, superintendent of Canton schools before the Ohio Education association meeting here would:

1. Permit county boards of education to propose school districts of any size with a minimum district of 1500 pupils.

2. Prevent formation of small new independent districts outside county jurisdiction by permitting new districts to be set up only where enrollment is at least 2500 pupils in an incorporated city.

3. Wipe out overlapping school districts and give county boards complete authority in a county where only one school district exists.

4. Withhold state aid from districts which offer less than 12 grades of instruction at the discretion of the state education director.

The program was drawn up by the Ohio Association of School Administrators, the exempted village Superintendents Association and the County Superintendents Association. Vincent is president of the OASA.

Atomic Heads Seek Strike Substitute

CINCINNATI—(AP)—The Atomic Energy commission is seeking an alternative for workers' right to strike in atomic energy industries

Oscar S. Smith of Washington, director of labor relations for the Atomic Energy commission, told the Association of American Law Schools yesterday that such an alternative was needed as an adjunct of bargaining in activities where the strike is rarely, if ever, appropriate.

Thus far, he added, the commission has not found an alternative which all parties would accept.

With Time and One-Half For All Overtime, Long Games In Sight!

MAYBE it is democracy, but, as far as I am concerned, you can give me the good old days without no overtime for extra innings.

We couldn't look better than we did that spring until they signed the contract with the International Brotherhood of Right-Fielders. We had pitching and power and we had an infield that was absolutely just practically an iron curtain until they signed that contract. I kept telling the boss to ignore them but the old man is funny so he said: "Well, I have tried everything from baby sitters for the effeminine customers on ladies' day to black robes on the umpires like the supreme court. So I am going to sign up with the International Brotherhood of Right-Fielders on account of the four freedoms."

There was quite a lot of complications before we got back to open the season, but they were practically nothing compared to the troubles when we really got settled down.

The unions had signed up the Yankees and the Red Sox and Detroit, and some others and the scale called for time and one-half for extra innings.

The boys would get their heads together down around first base and when I came down yelling, "Break it up! Break it up!" we had a little squirt of a bum substitute infielder and he said to me: "Get back in your hole and mind your own business. We are having a council meeting."

I sent Wally Dumboe down to listen and he told me they were running a slowdown to get into extra innings for the overtime. We were going into the tenth nothing-nothing almost every day and everybody thought it was marvelous baseball the way the boys would go out practically in order the first nine innings. Or if the other club got a run by accident, then they would kick one back to us the next time we hitted.

I often used to think it was funny when a fellow would tap one to the infield and I would hear the coach at first say, "Take it easy. Take it easy. Are you trying to kill the job?"

Finally Wally Dumboe was delegated to negotiate a little compromise. The regular contract called for a game-and-a-half's pay over nine innings, so they were just stalling for the first nine innings. Then they would start to level and usually settle it in the tenth or eleventh.

We compromised so all ballgames started in the tenth. I said this was ridiculous, but they said every laundry starts numbering the wagons at No. 10 and we were just reactionary.

The first inning is the tenth, and they just get a 50 per cent hoist in pay, is all it amounts to.

But that was when they pulled the jurisdictional strike, over the Ted Williams shift. Everybody was shifting to right for Williams so the Rightfielders' brotherhood had practically a monopoly with this guy always hitting to right.

They upped the price to $350 per flyball, straight time. But that came to $525 with overtime under the new agreement and $700 at double-time just to catch a crummy little pop fly in the games or Sundays or Holidays.

That was ruining us and I got so when Williams would pop one I would run down there yelling "Don't catch it! We can't afford to catch the guy out so leave him go and try for the doubleplay."

So the center fielders got jealous and they offered to do it for $300, straight time. And the leftfielders for $250, and the first thing we knew there was pickets all over the outfield with signs like "This scab ball-club unfair to right-fielders," and "Our babies are starving. International Brotherhood of Right-Fielders." I always say that was when baseball really began to go to pieces.

Mystery Paper Proves Kirsten Flagstad Once a Nazi Believer

COLYUMIST'S SLAVE JOTS DOWN A FEW MEMOS

Regarding that letter about Mme. Flagstad. The one which said there was no proof of the charges in Norway. I sent a photostat of you-know-what to Mr. Big, and his sec'y just replied: "Tell Mr. Winchell the photostat rather conclusively proves that the lady has, or had, Nazi tendencies. Accordingly, it is a good thing to expose her. He hopes Alger Hiss will get the same treatment."

The newsmags confirmed your exclusive of last week about the FBI tracting the mysterious typewriter to Hiss, but no mention of you, of course.

Gen. Wainwright wired that the sword offered in the "Stop the Music!" prize package isn't the one given in surrender. Nor was it represented as such. He regrets that some vets misunderstood.

The radio people also called. Said the big idea was to help Disabled Veterans (of which the General is chief) dramatize the need for gifts for wounded vets. There are still 117,000 wounded men in gov't hospitals.

They did not mean to imply the sword was the one surrendered. Glad you didn't use it. I assured Gen. Wainwright you would syndicate the explanation.

Remember all the complaints from the people when you reported mink prices, etc., were away off? Well, Women's Wear Daily (for Dec. 13th) just got to my desk. Page 30 headlines: "Ranch Mink Off 31 P. C. Silverblu Also Drops".

During the recent storm, driver No. 2727 (of a 34th Street crosstown bus at Park Avenue) got out and helped a blind man across the street. B. Cowham, the organist (at the Flushing RKO. Theatre), witnessed it and hoped you'd mention it. Considering how the bus men were panned so hard recently.

Buzz from Washington that the Defense Dept, slipped Mr. Hopley a citation for his so-called Plan for Civil Defense (mit stormtroopers!), but told him to call for it at the Pentagon's back door. I should say!

NYU people downtown told me that on her walks through Washington Sq. Park, Mrs. Roosevelt is often followed by students. They ask advice on subjects from puppy love to the United Nations, etc. The other day some timidly asked her to join them in a toast to the Freedoms for which FDR fought. And she did, while one of the kids took care of Fala on the sidewalk...

All that talk about the President "not being mad at anybody" (over the desertions before election) isn't fact. You oughta see the names of false friends who have been stricken from White House invite-lists.

You'd be amazed at the many former Time-Life staffers and editors (since fired or resigned) who are enjoying Whittaker Chumpers' predicament. When the ex-Red was Senior Editor of Time they say he made them miserable.

Can't use the name of the gal in Miami Beach who had her nose prettified—and the day it mended went and stabbed her feller (with a stiletto—not the nose).

I trust you think this col'm is okay. I did it hurriedly as I gotta go home and read up on Marx and Lenin—because some day I may want to get a job over at Time Magazine.

8 Injured In Traffic Accidents

Cars Collide In Mud North of Mansfield

Eight persons were injured in four traffic accidents in Mansfield and the immediate area last night and today.

Most seriously injured were Mrs. John H. Keinath, 27, of Cook road, who received lacerations of the right eye; and Adam Popa jr., 28, of Greenwich, who suffered possible rib fractures.

Both Mrs. Keinath and Popa are in General hospital. Hospital attendants reported Popa's condition as "good" today and Mrs. Keinath's condition "fair."

The two were injured when a car driven by John H. Keinath, 31, of Cook road, collided with a car driven by Popa on State Route 13, seven miles north of Mansfield at approximately 11:45 p. m. yesterday, according to highway patrolmen.

Also injured in the accident were Keinath, bruises of the chest; his son, John E. Keinath, 10, sprained ankle, and Olga Ruth Popa 30, passenger in Popa's car, cuts and bruises. All were taken to General hospital, treated and released.

MUD BLAMED

Both drivers said the accident was due to excessive mud on the highway from pipeline construction work being done there.

Charles McKinley, 13, of 265 Glessner avenue, suffered slight bruises when he was struck by a car driven by Benton Kaylor, Mansfield, R. D. 5, at 10:30 p. m. yesterday.

The accident occurred at Park avenue west and Walnut street.

Kaylor told police that he was going south on Walnut and struck the boy as he made a left turn onto Park avenue west.

Ronald Frasher, 34, of 150 Blymyer avenue, suffered a sprained right knee when his car was involved in an accident with a car driven by Riley E. Marietta of Loudonville at 6:15 p. m. yesterday.

Frasher told police that he was going west on Park avenue west when Marietta pulled out of a parking space in front of 182 Park avenue west and he struck Marietta's car.

Victor C. Ketner, 60, of 483 Lexington avenue, suffered contusions of the right hip and chest at 7:45 a. m. today when struck by a car driven by Harley W. Hoover, 159 Rae avenue, at Fourth and Main streets.

Hoover told police he was going west on Fourth street and struck Ketner as he made a left turn onto Main street. Hoover took Ketner to the hospital where he was treated and released.

Back Oleo Measure

Members of the Federated Democratic Women of Ohio League will meet in Columbus Jan. 10, to push plans for a campaign to permit the sale of colored oleomargarine in Ohio.

Mrs. Dorothy Davis, president of the Dolly Madison club here, will attend. She said the meeting was called by Attorney Catherine Carter of Cincinnati.

Purpose of the meeting, Mrs. Davis said, is to urge Democratic women leaders in the various districts to contact state representatives and senators to ask support of the bill.

SAVED FROM DEATH

ANNAPOLIS, Md. —(AP)— Circus roustabout James V. LaGuardia's death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment yesterday by Governor Lane. LaGuardia, 29, of Youngstown, O., was convicted of participating in a three-man rape of a woman near Baltimore.

YOUTHFUL ENTERTAINERS—Jay Herbert, with the dummy on his knee, and Larry Rupert, Senior high school pupils, are kept busy these days with performances before lodges and church and school groups. Their ventriloquism and magic acts have become favorites in the city.

Boy Entertainers Seek Stage Careers

By NITA BRANSON

Neon signs on Broadway may beckon two Senior high school students who at 15 and 16 have made a success of a vaudeville act, but first they are thinking in terms of an education.

The boys are Larry Rupert, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rupert, 299 Taylor road, and Jay Herbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joy Herbert, 476 Marion avenue.

Larry is the magician and Jay the ventriloquist of a combined act that has become almost a self-supporting venture. This Christmas they had 10 engagements at church, school and lodge entertainments.

The boys get a lot of fun out of their extra-curricular activity, but their parents say their schooling must come first.

Larry said:

"I've got to go ahead and get some education. That's the reason I've planned to attend a college for magicians in Hollywood. Right now I'm taking several subjects that would help me make a good living in case the magic doesn't pan out.

"My parents think the same," Jay agreed. "I plan to go to some good theatrical college and major in dramatics."

The boys explained how they started as entertainers.

GOT MAGIC SET

"Someone gave me a magic set for Christmas," Larry recalls. "I began to be interested. But what really made me want to be a magician was learning tricks from the late D. Graham Palmer, an advertising man with The News-Journal. He was a pretty good magician and taught me a lot of things."

"My interest started when I watched a ventriloquist at the Cole Brothers circus," Jay said. "So I got a book at the library and started practicing. My voice is still not too good, but I keep practicing."

Jay's little dumy is called Woody Whittle. Making a pun out of it, Jay says laughingly, 'I call him Whittle because he's such a wittle guy.'

He's, a cute "little guy" at that, with Irish features, red hair and a twinkle in his eyes.

According to Jay, there are two kinds of ventriloquism.

"I practice the 'near' ventriloquism. Then there is the 'far' kind where someone throws his voice into the next room.

MAKE OWN PROPS

Most of their larger "props" are made by the two students in their own workshops. Larry has hundreds of such props for his magic acts and together the boys have a red velvet backdrop and their own sound system.

Although Larry likes straight magic, he is more enthusiastic about ghost shows.

"That's the kind where you scare heck out of people," he explained. "We gave that kind at Johnny Appleseed auditorium for the Brinkerhoff Christwas party."

Larry is a junior and Jay a sophomore at Senior high.

Board Hires Staff Nurse

Mrs. Viola H. White, 201 Walter avenue, was hired as a general duty staff nurse with the city-county health department, at a joint meeting of the two boards last night.

Mrs. White will assume her duties on Jan. 3. She replaces Miss Betty Pifer, who resigned.

The hiring of Mrs. White brings the health department's nursing staff to full strength. There are eight nurses and one supervisor in the department.

BEST GIFT—

Miss Miriam Pugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Pugh, Osbun road, had one of the finest Christmas presents she'll ever receive. In a note to The News-Journal yesterday Miss Pugh said she is again able to walk after being in bed for six months. She spent Christmas away from home and was able to walk in and out of the house. Miss Pugh was injured last spring, shortly before her graduation at Kent State university, when the plane in which she was riding crashed. Since that time, she has been in a cast. She was one of the first to receive a ceiling projector from the Lions club. As soon as she is completely well, Miss Pugh expects to continue her education and get her master's degree.

Greek Government Rounding Up Reds

ATHENS, Greece —(AP)— The Greek government today began a large-scale roundup of alleged communists in the Peloponneus.

It announced that about 3,000 persons, described as communists and underground workers, were arrested. They are suspected of helping guerrilla bands, the government said.

Holiday Spirit Eases Deadline

NEW YORK — (UP) — Immigration officials said today they probably would admit 35 German war brides en route to New York by plane despite the expiration of the alien war bride act last midnight.

Immigration Commissioner Watson B. Miller said authorities will be "as generous as possible in the spirit of Christmas" toward soldiers' wives on their way to this country when the law expired. He said each case would be decided "on its merits."

Pan American Airlines reported that the German brides would leave Shannon, Eire, for New York today, flying by way of Gander, Nfld. The company said the flight was delayed two days at Shannon by bad weather after its arrival from Frankfort, Germany, Monday.

The wives of six servicemen flew into New York last night aboard an American overseas airlines plane shortly under the midnight deadline. Their plane had been delayed three days by bad weather at Prestwick, Scotland.

Immigration authorities said the women were the last of 52,000 servicemen's dependents admitted under the law.

They were identified as Mrs. Lilian Belasco, wife of Cpl. John Belasco, Waynesburg, Pa.; Mrs. Glenys Cook, wife of Sgt. Woodrow Cook, Newport, Ky.; Mrs. Janet Judge, wife of Sgt. Joseph Judge, Denver, Colo., Mrs. Violet Ramsey, wife of Gerald Ramsey, Pittsburg, Calif.; Mattisa Marino, 23, whose husband lives in New York City; and Jaquelin Bird, 26, wife of Staff Sgt. Russell Bird of Mishawaka, Ind.

Also on the plane were Terence Ramsey, 10 months old; Christopher Judge, 3; Gerald Bird, 5 months, and his brother, Patrick, 20 months.

Eleven other brides and one bridegroom arrived by ship and plane yesterday.

The bridegroom was Gabor Rona 29, a stateless photographer, who married former WAC Blossom Bernstein of Los Angeles in Germany. Mrs. Rona was unable to accompany her husband from London because of a shortage of plane space. Rona said she planned to follow him as soon as possible on a British plane.

One other war bride arrived with her two children aboard the army transport General W. G. Haan. She was Thelma Jones, wife of Charles Jones of New Albany, Ind.

Yesterday's arrivals also included 41 war fiancees.

Physician's Father Dies

Henry Joseph Barnes, 78, father of Dr. Russell H. Barnes; 89 Brinkerhoff avenue, died at General hospital this morning after a lingering illness.

Mr. Barnes, whose home was in Springdale, Pa., had been visiting his son here for the past month.

He was born in Millerstown, Pa., Oct. 17, 1870.

Mr. Barnes was a retired employe of the Pennsylvania railroad. He had been employed as a car distributor for the Conemaugh division of the Pennsylvania railroad in Springdale, Pa.

In addition to the son whom he was visiting, he is survived by another son, Kenneth Barnes of Baltimore, Md.; a daughter, Mrs. Marguerite Seigfried of Springdale, Pa.; seven grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Finefrock funeral home and will be removed to Springdale, Pa., tonight for funeral services and burial.

Barberton Bandit Staged Robbery Here, Chief Says

Brownie Goldewski, who was shot and killed during a Barberton holdup on Christmas eve is the same man who robbed the South Boulevards market of $1,288 on Dec. 23, Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab said today.

He said all four witnesses to the robbery identified Goldewski as the man who held up Joseph Spitaleri jr., and forced him to empty two cash registers containing $1,288 at gun point.

The money stolen by Goldewski has not been recovered, Chief Schwab said.

Connection of Goldewski with the Mansfield holdup was made after a comparison of techniques used in the two robberies.

The supermarkets were entered about closing time. The gunman posed as a customer and drew a pistol at the check-out counters.

Goldewski was shot and killed by a Barberton police sergeant after he had killed a patrolman.

Mansfield Schools Set for Cage Battles

FAIR OR FOUL

by LAWTON CARVER

International News Service

NEW YORK—(INS)—There is a lot of slush in the papers on Bob Feller's 1949 contract, but it is definite that the Cleveland Indians will have the upper hand in getting the former fire-baller's signature on the dotted line.

Feller will wind up taking what he can get.

This once greatest of current pitchers has fallen off in recent seasons to the point where Gene Bearden and Bob Lemon are the standouts on the ball club.

Feller has devoted his time to outside activities to the point where he no longer can pitch baseball.

In the forthcoming signing Bill Veeck, the Cleveland owner, will remind him of the fact that he has become a third stringer and Feller is certain to work again next season for terms to be stipulated by Veeck. Feller won't get $82,000 or any appreciable part of it, unless he produces.

TO KNOW Bob Feller is to know one of the smartest business men in baseball. He has made a tremendous fortune. But while making his money he has become a less effective pitcher.

He was away to a bad start last season and of no help to the Indians during the early part of the season. Then he settled down to the kind of pitching expected of him and won some games, but he flopped again in the world series.

He lost one game through the breaks and everybody moaned over his terrible misfortune. But in his next effort he was batted out of the box. That made him something less than a terror.

There was a time when he was tops. He could strike out more men and pitch more low-hit games than anybody in the business. His fast ball was almost unbeatable. That Feller is gone now. He is just another pitcher.

If Feller gets more money from Cleveland next season than Bob Lemon or Gene Bearden there is no justice. They are better pitchers at a time when Feller's fame is on the wane. No one is particularly interested in seeing the remains of Feller pitching the ball.

Freddies Play Lexington 5

FREDERICKTOWN — There will be one sure winner when Fredericktown's great high school basketball team plays host to Lexington here tonight.

The winner will be the March of Dimes, to which all proceeds of the stellar attraction will go. The game was arranged by the March of Dimes committee of Fredericktown.

The Freddies will be seeking their ninth victory without defeat, while Lexington is out to break a three-game losing streak. The Minutemen won six of their first seven games and then lost to Madison, Lucas and Ontario in succession.

A special box for contributions to Edison high Coach Fred Goare will be placed in the Fredericktown gym. Goare is a polio victim, being confined to a wheelchair since being stricken last September.

ARCADIA, Calif. — (AP) — Duplicator, Beau Pere's two-year-old son, copped the $50,000 added California Breeders Championship stakes yesterday as 35,000 fans watched the 12th winter meeting open at Santa Anita park.

Rams Ready To Skirmish With Alumni

Unlike many alumni squads, the band of cagers who will appear tomorrow night are well organized and have been playing together under the banner of Frankie Mitsch's Corner Store. They are the undefeated leaders of the National B City league.

The six "regulars" of last year will be there intact along with Glenn Tschantz, Joe Miller, Leo Eldridge, and Joe Radio. From last year's district champions are Herb Eldridge, Dick Ernsberger, George Wilson, Alex Bosko, Eldon Pritchard, and Dick Poth.

VARSITY STARTERS

For the current Rams of Coach Blaine Dowler, it will be Jim Brightbill and "Dutch" Bader at forwards with Joe Distl at center and Ed Chelski and Larry Secrist at guard.

Chelski leads the team in scoring with a 13.0 point average in the four games played. Jim Brightbill has a 9.5 average followed by Joe Distl, 8.5. Madison has won three of four games.

Members of the Ram varsity will be guests of Coach Blaine Dowler at a basketball doubleheader tonight in the Cleveland Arena. The Rams will see John Carroll meet Cornell and Baldwin Wallace tangle with DePaul.

Basketball Meets Feature High Play

By JIM DAILEY

COLUMBUS—(UP)—It's carnival time among Ohio's high school basketball teams this week, so it's as good a time as any to look over the field to see where the power lies before the real battles begin next month.

Tournaments were either in process or about to begin in at least seven major spots.

In a headline game last night, always potent Hamilton handed Columbus South its first defeat of the season by winning at Hamilton, 61-55. Bill Wilks and Gene Baldwin paced the Hamilton squad with 20 and 17 points respectively.

TOP TANGLES

At Fremont tonight Ashland, Bellevue, Fremont Ross and Norwalk have a two-day go-'round, while Lima Central will be the scene of a tourney involving Mansfield, Greenfield McClain, Lima Central and Findlay.

Ashland will be out to avenge its lone setback of the year at Fremont when it meets Bellevue, victor by a 44-42 score two weeks ago, and Findlay, the 1948 state champion, will meet its match in Lima Central, defeated only once this season.

Tonight at East Liverpool Elyria tangles with Toronto while the home club meets Lorain in a continuation of skirmishing that started last night at Toronto.

Invitational tourneys in the Cincinnati area occupy eight teams. The one at North College Hill including Purcell, Western Hills, Terrace Park and the host school, will end tonight at Norwood Walnut Hills, Plainville and Withrow will battle.

Tournaments will be held also at Troy and Piqua. Dayton Wilbur Wright, Oakwood and Urbana start it off at Piqua tonight and Troy, Osborn, Celina and Dayton Kiser clash in a two-day series at Troy.

POSSIBLE CHAMPS

Meanwhile; after only one short month of play preceding the Christmas holidays, a whole host of teams are rearing their heads as possible contenders for Ohio's top high school basketball prize—the state championship.

Findlay's Trojans, the 1948 champs, have already been beaten by Xenia Central to throw the race wide open, and Massillon, Middletown, Garfield Heights, Hamilton and Lakewood appear to be major contenders at this early date.

Others with good chances appear to be Columbus Central, Greenfield, Miamisburg, Ashland, Canton South, Portsmouth, Toronto, Coshocton, Lancaster, Gallipolis, Youngstown South, Springfield, Toledo Devilbiss, Toledo Waite, Lorain, Dayton Dunbar and Dayton Stivers.

Tygers Play 2 Games In Carnival

The Tygers make a pair of appearances in the Lima basketball carnival against schools which usually floor fine basketball teams. Senior high battles Greenfield McClain at 7:30 tonight and Lima Central at 8:45 p. m. Thursday. The other games in the fourth annual Lima cage festival are: Central vs Findlay, 8:45 tonight and Findlay vs McClain at 7:30 tomorrow.

Each of the teams has lost only one game and Findlay's defending state championship crew will be the only team favored to win both its games. The other clashes are strictly of the toss up caliber.

The 11-man Bengal squad left early this afternoon and will stay overnight at the Argonne hotel in Lima.

Junior Jimmy Anderson continues to lead the Tyger scoring with 69 points, an average of 13.8 per game. Big Norb Shibinski has 58 tallies and an 11.6 average.

Sugar Bowl Cage Meet Opens

NEW ORLEANS —(AP)— The greatest collection of collegiate cage talent since last spring's final Olympic tryouts will be assembled at the municipal auditorium here tonight for the opening of the streamlined four-team Sugar Bowl basketball tournament.

Colliding in the first game of the two-night hoop carnival at 7:30 p. m., CST, will be undefeated St. Louis university, winner of the national invitational tournament last season, and Holy Cross, defending eastern NCAA champion and collegiate titleholder the previous year.

The second game tonight sends Kentucky's all-victorious Wildcats, present holders of the NCAA crown, against a Tulane quintet that has won eight of its nine starts this season.

While Kentucky is favored to turn back Tulane by four points, a feat accomplished in Louisville only last week, the St. Louis-Holy Cross tussle is rated a toss-up.

★

CHICAGO —(AP)— Minnesota, the Big Nine's only unbeaten basketball team, takes a five-game victory string into the Drake round robin tourney tonight, drawing strong Dartmouth as its first foe.

Vanderbilt meets Drake in the second game. The teams switch opponents on Thursday night.

Colgate opens a two-game series at Illinois tonight.

★

BOWLING GREEN — (AP) — Bowling Green State university's basketball team won a hard-fought 77 to 62 victory over Beloit of Wisconsin here last night.

Beloit jumped into the lead at the start but Bowling Green pulled up to tie it at 10-all after six minutes passed and lead 33 to 30 at the half.

The victory was Bowling Green's sixth in nine games and Beloit's second loss in 10 games.

High point man for Bowling Green was Center Mack Otten with 18.

VA Warns Reports Due Jan. 1

Vets Must Submit Data on Progress

The Mansfield Veterans Administration office sounded a warning today to the 1,387 veterans in this area taking on-the-job training under the GI bill.

The individual must submit a report of his progress, signed by his employer, on Jan. 1. A 10-day grace period is allowed, but if the report is not received by the local VA by Jan. 10, subsistence payments will be suspended, warned C. A. Swain in charge of on-the-job training.

He reported that since the ruling was put into effect in October the main headquarters of the VA has been swamped with so many suspension notices that it was inclined to be lenient for the first couple of months.

"This does not insure similar treatment in the future," Swain cautioned.

Veterans who have been dropped from subsistence lists when their monthly reports of progress failed to reach the VA on time will be restored as rapidly as the reports are made within the required time limit, the VA announced.

Monthly reports of progress are not required for veteran students in colleges, other institutions of higher learning, institutional on-farm courses, and correspondence courses.

COLLECTS $75,000 — Federal Court has ordered Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to pay screen writer Lester Cole $75,000 in back pay and to reinstate him in his $3,350-a-week job. Cole was one of 10 Hollywood writers and directors suspended after they were cited for contempt of Congress by the House un-American activities committee during its Red Probe.

Dayton Revives Work-Relief Program of Depression Days

DAYTON, — (AP) — The city of Dayton has revived its work-relief program of depression days to support more than 50 men laid off in a current employment slump.

City relief officials said today the project, financed on a fifty-fifty basis by city and state governments, began Dec. 1.

"The fact is that work has become very hard to get," E. V. Stoecklein, city welfare director, explained. "There have been factory lay-offs and shortened work weeks."

Local factories, however, said their employment situation is "normal."

The number of men now employed on the project is expected to double early next year if the slump continues, Stoecklein added.

He said the men are employed in parks as maintenance workers. Their salaries average $160 a month, paid at a rate of one dollar an hour.

The program might go on a permanent basis, the welfare director said, "if there is a need for it."

Mansfield Schools Set for Cage Battles

FAIR OR FOUL

by LAWTON CARVER

International News Service

NEW YORK—(INS)—There is a lot of slush in the papers on Bob Feller's 1949 contract, but it is definite that the Cleveland Indians will have the upper hand in getting the former fire-baller's signature on the dotted line.

Feller will wind up taking what he can get.

This once greatest of current pitchers has fallen off in recent seasons to the point where Gene Bearden and Bob Lemon are the standouts on the ball club.

Feller has devoted his time to outside activities to the point where he no longer can pitch baseball.

In the forthcoming signing Bill Veeck, the Cleveland owner, will remind him of the fact that he has become a third stringer and Feller is certain to work again next season for terms to be stipulated by Veeck. Feller won't get $82,000 or any appreciable part of it, unless he produces.

TO KNOW Bob Feller is to know one of the smartest business men in baseball. He has made a tremendous fortune. But while making his money he has become a less effective pitcher.

He was away to a bad start last season and of no help to the Indians during the early part of the season. Then he settled down to the kind of pitching expected of him and won some games, but he flopped again in the world series.

He lost one game through the breaks and everybody moaned over his terrible misfortune. But in his next effort he was batted out of the box. That made him something less than a terror.

There was a time when he was tops. He could strike out more men and pitch more low-hit games than anybody in the business. His fast ball was almost unbeatable. That Feller is gone now. He is just another pitcher.

If Feller gets more money from Cleveland next season than Bob Lemon or Gene Bearden there is no justice. They are better pitchers at a time when Feller's fame is on the wane. No one is particularly interested in seeing the remains of Feller pitching the ball.

Freddies Play Lexington 5

FREDERICKTOWN — There will be one sure winner when Fredericktown's great high school basketball team plays host to Lexington here tonight.

The winner will be the March of Dimes, to which all proceeds of the stellar attraction will go. The game was arranged by the March of Dimes committee of Fredericktown.

The Freddies will be seeking their ninth victory without defeat, while Lexington is out to break a three-game losing streak. The Minutemen won six of their first seven games and then lost to Madison, Lucas and Ontario in succession.

A special box for contributions to Edison high Coach Fred Goare will be placed in the Fredericktown gym. Goare is a polio victim, being confined to a wheelchair since being stricken last September.

ARCADIA, Calif. — (AP) — Duplicator, Beau Pere's two-year-old son, copped the $50,000 added California Breeders Championship stakes yesterday as 35,000 fans watched the 12th winter meeting open at Santa Anita park.

Rams Ready To Skirmish With Alumni

Unlike many alumni squads, the band of cagers who will appear tomorrow night are well organized and have been playing together under the banner of Frankie Mitsch's Corner Store. They are the undefeated leaders of the National B City league.

The six "regulars" of last year will be there intact along with Glenn Tschantz, Joe Miller, Leo Eldridge, and Joe Radio. From last year's district champions are Herb Eldridge, Dick Ernsberger, George Wilson, Alex Bosko, Eldon Pritchard, and Dick Poth.

VARSITY STARTERS

For the current Rams of Coach Blaine Dowler, it will be Jim Brightbill and "Dutch" Bader at forwards with Joe Distl at center and Ed Chelski and Larry Secrist at guard.

Chelski leads the team in scoring with a 13.0 point average in the four games played. Jim Brightbill has a 9.5 average followed by Joe Distl, 8.5. Madison has won three of four games.

★

State's Clifford Can't Get Grades

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Ohio State University's track team will be without the services of Bill Clifford, ace half miler, during the 1949 indoor season. Coach Larry Snyder said last night that the 1947 NCAA 880-yard champion has been declared ineligible for the indoor season because of grades.

Five other trackmen — Milers Gene Davis and Ed Meadow, Sprinter Fred Johnson, Hurdler Fred Smith and Two-Miler Dick Rose — also were declared ineligible. Ohio State is defending Big Nine indoor and outdoor champion.

Johnny Holota of the Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League works as a furniture and appliance salesman during the off-season months.

The red-hot battle for first place in the Transportation league continued last night as Geiger Distributing and Schmid's Tire Service swept three-game series to remain tied for the lead. Geiger's turned back the Teamsters while Schmid's was beating K. of P.

Paul Kurtz of the Teamsters tried vainly to beat Geiger's as he rung up 165-211-203—579 for individual honors. Lewis Shafer of Schmid's had the best single game, a 213. Behind Kurtz in series listings were D. Bachman, 554; A. Karbula, 550, and Jack Gaubatz, 547.

★

Leo Yuncker led Elks bowlers with 192-211-179—582, while P. Herlihy racked up 178-205-193—576. Ace Dysart posted 553; Aid Geiger, 551, and Harry Rist, 537. Yuncker's 211 was the best single.

★

H. Carmel of Ritz Nite club and Richard Gibson of Mansfield Plumbing shared honors in the Richland C league as Carmel posted a 524 series and Gibson a 221 single game. J. Noordhof of Doc Hammans and F. Black of MAPCO both had 522.

Basketball Meets Feature High Play

By JIM DAILEY

COLUMBUS—(UP)—It's carnival time among Ohio's high school basketball teams this week, so it's as good a time as any to look over the field to see where the power lies before the real battles begin next month.

Tournaments were either in process or about to begin in at least seven major spots.

In a headline game last night, always potent Hamilton handed Columbus South its first defeat of the season by winning at Hamilton, 61-55. Bill Wilks and Gene Baldwin paced the Hamilton squad with 20 and 17 points respectively.

TOP TANGLES

At Fremont tonight Ashland, Bellevue, Fremont Ross and Norwalk have a two-day go-'round, while Lima Central will be the scene of a tourney involving Mansfield, Greenfield McClain, Lima Central and Findlay.

Ashland will be out to avenge its lone setback of the year at Fremont when it meets Bellevue, victor by a 44-42 score two weeks ago, and Findlay, the 1948 state champion, will meet its match in Lima Central, defeated only once this season.

Tonight at East Liverpool Elyria tangles with Toronto while the home club meets Lorain in a continuation of skirmishing that started last night at Toronto.

Invitational tourneys in the Cincinnati area occupy eight teams. The one at North College Hill including Purcell, Western Hills, Terrace Park and the host school, will end tonight at Norwood Walnut Hills, Plainville and Withrow will battle.

Tournaments will be held also at Troy and Piqua. Dayton Wilbur Wright, Oakwood and Urbana start it off at Piqua tonight and Troy, Osborn, Celina and Dayton Kiser clash in a two-day series at Troy.

POSSIBLE CHAMPS

Meanwhile; after only one short month of play preceding the Christmas holidays, a whole host of teams are rearing their heads as possible contenders for Ohio's top high school basketball prize—the state championship.

Findlay's Trojans, the 1948 champs, have already been beaten by Xenia Central to throw the race wide open, and Massillon, Middletown, Garfield Heights, Hamilton and Lakewood appear to be major contenders at this early date.

Others with good chances appear to be Columbus Central, Greenfield, Miamisburg, Ashland, Canton South, Portsmouth, Toronto, Coshocton, Lancaster, Gallipolis, Youngstown South, Springfield, Toledo Devilbiss, Toledo Waite, Lorain, Dayton Dunbar and Dayton Stivers.

Saints Clash With Miracles In Final Game

Both swept past semi-final opponents with ease yesterday the Saints walloping the South End Tigers 33-20 and the Miracles turning back the bulldogs, 34-24.

Tucker and Strine of the Saints shared scoring honors for the day as both dropped in nine points.

Tygers Play 2 Games In Carnival

The Tygers make a pair of appearances in the Lima basketball carnival against schools which usually floor fine basketball teams. Senior high battles Greenfield McClain at 7:30 tonight and Lima Central at 8:45 p. m. Thursday. The other games in the fourth annual Lima cage festival are: Central vs Findlay, 8:45 tonight and Findlay vs McClain at 7:30 tomorrow.

Each of the teams has lost only one game and Findlay's defending state championship crew will be the only team favored to win both its games. The other clashes are strictly of the toss up caliber.

The 11-man Bengal squad left early this afternoon and will stay overnight at the Argonne hotel in Lima.

Junior Jimmy Anderson continues to lead the Tyger scoring with 69 points, an average of 13.8 per game. Big Norb Shibinski has 58 tallies and an 11.6 average.

Sugar Bowl Cage Meet Opens

NEW ORLEANS —(AP)— The greatest collection of collegiate cage talent since last spring's final Olympic tryouts will be assembled at the municipal auditorium here tonight for the opening of the streamlined four-team Sugar Bowl basketball tournament.

Colliding in the first game of the two-night hoop carnival at 7:30 p. m., CST, will be undefeated St. Louis university, winner of the national invitational tournament last season, and Holy Cross, defending eastern NCAA champion and collegiate titleholder the previous year.

The second game tonight sends Kentucky's all-victorious Wildcats, present holders of the NCAA crown, against a Tulane quintet that has won eight of its nine starts this season.

While Kentucky is favored to turn back Tulane by four points, a feat accomplished in Louisville only last week, the St. Louis-Holy Cross tussle is rated a toss-up.

★

CHICAGO —(AP)— Minnesota, the Big Nine's only unbeaten basketball team, takes a five-game victory string into the Drake round robin tourney tonight, drawing strong Dartmouth as its first foe.

Vanderbilt meets Drake in the second game. The teams switch opponents on Thursday night.

Colgate opens a two-game series at Illinois tonight.

★

BOWLING GREEN — (UP) — Bowling Green State university's basketball team won a hard-fought 77 to 62 victory over Beloit of Wisconsin here last night.

Beloit jumped into the lead at the start but Bowling Green pulled up to tie it at 10-all after six minutes passed and lead 33 to 30 at the half.

The victory was Bowling Green's sixth in nine games and Beloit's second loss in 10 games.

High point man for Bowling Green was Center Mack Otten with 18.

VA Warns Reports Due Jan. 1

Vets Must Submit Data on Progress-

The Mansfield Veterans Administration office sounded a warning today to the 1,387 veterans in this area taking on-the-job training under the GI bill.

The individual must submit a report of his progress, signed by his employer, on Jan. 1. A 10-day grace period is allowed, but if the report is not received by the local VA by Jan. 10, subsistence payments will be suspended, warned C. A. Swain in charge of on-the-job training.

He reported that since the ruling was put into effect in October the main headquarters of the VA has been swamped with so many suspension notices that it was inclined to be lenient for the first couple of months.

"This does not insure similar treatment in the future," Swain cautioned.

Veterans who have been dropped from subsistence lists when their monthly reports of progress failed to reach the VA on time will be restored as rapidly as the reports are made within the required time limit, the VA announced.

Monthly reports of progress are not required for veteran students in colleges, other institutions of higher learning, institutional on-farm courses, and correspondence courses.

Dayton Revives Work-Relief Program of Depression Days

DAYTON, — (AP) — The city of Dayton has revived its work-relief program of depression days to support more than 50 men laid off in a current employment slump.

City relief officials said today the project, financed on a fifty-fifty basis by city and state governments, began Dec. 1.

"The fact is that work has become very hard to get," E. V. Stoecklein, city welfare director, explained. "There have been factory lay-offs and shortened work weeks."

Local factories, however, said their employment situation is "normal."

The number of men now employed on the project is expected to double early next year if the slump continues, Stoecklein added.

He said the men are employed in parks as maintenance workers. Their salaries average $160 a month, paid at a rate of one dollar an hour.

The program might go on a permanent basis, the welfare director said, "if there is a need for it."
